

All short selling should be banned, as it allows those individuals and hedge funds who may have information that the public has not been informed of, or where contrived adverse publicity via the media is used. There were many examples here and overseas of manipulation on a grand scale, and no target was too big for hedge funds to take on. Genuine investors have suffered because of shorting, so please stop this destructive distortion of the market.

Thanks, Gordon Coad